Rubric for Project Proposal

Area of achievement	Unacceptable (F)	Marginal Pass (D)	Fair (C)	Good (B)	Excellent (A)
Problem Identification	Unclear and inappropriate	Unclear in most, needs further improvement	Clear in some items and requiring further improvement	Clear in description, objectives/scope properly defined	Significant problem, clear in description, well thought on conditions, objectives/scope well defined
Problem Solving	No method was suggested to solve the problem	Methods are proposed but they can't solve the problem in an appropriate way.	Methods are proposed but they would only partially solve the problem.	• Suitable methods are proposed and the problem would reasonably be solved • Some technical techniques are noted	• Suitable methods are proposed and the problem would be fully solved • Advancement and innovation are clearly noted
Tasks identification and project management	No schedule and plan	• Tasks are vague and inappropriate • Little evidence of project management • Division of labor has obvious problems	• Tasks are identified, but need to be improved • Specified tasks are not well described • Apply project management in a limited way • Division of labor is not balanced	• Tasks are identified and described in a reasonable way • Some use of project management and tools, but can be improved • Division of labor is reasonable	• Tasks are clearly described and appropriately identified • Good use of project management and tools • Division of labor is good and well-balance
Writing style and grammar	No attempt	• Frequent spelling and grammatical errors • Writing disorganized and difficult to read and understand	• More than one spelling/ grammar error per section • Readable writing style, but difficult to follow	• A few spelling and grammatical errors • Writing style indicates planning that makes reading easy	• Spell-checked and proofread well • Writing style indicates planning that makes reading easy and flow of material makes understanding easy